An Assessment of Enhanced Supervision Housing for Young Adults

New York City Board of Correction

July 2017

AN ASSESSMENT OF ENHANCED SUPERVISION HOUSING FOR YOUNG ADULTS

X. INCIDENTS & VIOLENCE IN ESH

To better understand conditions in ESH with respect to incidents and violence, Board staff matched young adults placed in ESH to incidents appearing in the Department's 24 Hour Reports during individuals' ESH placement.⁸² The Department of Correction generates the 24 Hour Report daily and it is used to track unusual incidents,⁸³ such as uses of force (UOF), serious injuries to inmates or staff,⁸⁴ and other events that seriously affect normal operations of DOC facilities. The Board also reviewed data on inmate infractions for inmate-on-inmate fights and assaults and reviewed use of force incidents that are reported in the DOC's Monthly Security Reports by housing area. Data on injuries to people incarcerated in ESH were provided by CHS.

USE OF FORCE

There was a total of 88 UOF incidents occurring in ESH between September 2016 to March 2017,⁸⁵ 81% (n=71) involved young adults.⁸⁶ Nearly half of the incidents involving young adults, 47% (n=33) involved the use of chemical agents. In nearly a quarter (24%, n=17) of the UOF incidents involving young adults, the reason identified for the use of force was an assault on staff. There were no incidents of serious injuries to staff or assaults on non-uniform staff involving young adults placed in ESH between September 2016 and March 2017.

Figure 12 presents the monthly uses of force related to all individuals housed in ESH (adults and young adults) from September 2016 to March 2017 as reported in the DOC's Monthly Security Reports. There was an uptick in uses of force in ESH from October 2016 to January 2017—a period during which DOC opened a total of five new ESH units.⁸⁷

⁸² BOC staff used ESH entry and exit dates based on DOC housing assignments in the inmate information system to determine individuals' placement period and only counted events occurring during an individuals' ESH placement.

⁸³ The Department's policy on reporting requirements for unusual incidents defines "unusual incident" as "an event or occurrence that may affect or actually does affect the safety, security and well-being of the Department, its personnel, visitors and volunteers, as well as the inmates over whom it has custody and control." N.Y.C. DEPT OF CORRECTION, DIRECTIVE No. 5000R-A, REPORTING UNUSUAL INCIDENTS, sec. IV(C), at 4 (eff. Nov. 19, 2004).

⁸⁵ N.Y.C. DEPT OF CORRECTION, Monthly Security Statistical Reports – Fiscal Year 2017 (on file).

⁸⁶ BOC staff matched young adults placed in ESH between September 2016 through March 2017 to incidents reported in DOC's 24 Hour Reports through March 2017.

⁸⁷ Note that the values in the chart are absolute numbers of incidents per month and not a normalized rate per 100 or 1000 inmates per month, as is conventionally reported. That choice is deliberate: both the number of incidents and the overall number of inmates in ESH in any given month are so low that there is inadequate statistical basis from which to extrapolate a rate. A change of even one incident more or less in any given month would lead to the rate jumping or plummeting dramatically. The relative standard error is too high to be statistically confident that any reported rate per 100 inmates would be reproducible. With sample sizes this small, it is more reliable to focus on the absolute numbers of incidents when formulating interpretations and recommendations.

INFRACTIONS FOR FIGHTS AND ASSAULTS

Overall DOC reported a total of 30 inmate-on-inmate fights in ESH and issued a total of 54 infractions for inmate-on-inmate fights and assaults in ESH from September 2016-March 2017.⁸⁸ More than half of the infractions issued for fights and assaults in ESH were issued to young adults (56%, n=30) for their alleged involvement in inmate-on-inmate fights and assaults during this period.⁸⁹ There was a sharp rise in infractions for inmate-on-inmate fights and assaults from October through December 2016.⁹⁰ As noted earlier, this period corresponds to a significant increase in the ESH young adult population and the opening of new ESH units.

DISRUPTIVE ACTIVITY & OTHER VIOLENCE

From September 2016 to March 2017 there were a total of eight slashings in the ESH housing area, six of which involved young adults in ESH.⁹¹ A total of 8 different young adults were involved in these 6 slashings. One young adult was involved in two slashings, both occurring in the same unit. Three of the 6 slashings occurred in units where inmates are restrained to desks during lockout (ESH Level 1). In all but one of the 6 slashings, young adults attacked adult victims.

During one incident, two young adults manipulated their cuffs, got out of their restraints, and slashed another young adult who was restrained while using the phone. The victim sustained an abrasion to the right side of his face, right ear, and to his right back side. No weapon was recovered.⁹²

Another slashing involved a young adult who, while secured to his restraint chair, slashed another young adult who was being escorted near him at the time. The victim sustained a laceration to the right side of his face. No weapon was recovered.

Another slashing involved a young adult perpetrator and an adult victim who sustained a laceration to the head, back, and right thumb area. A weapon was recovered after this slashing.

Three other slashings occurred in units where individuals are not restrained to desks. All incidents involved young adults walking up to their victims and attacking them. No weapons were recovered.

⁹¹ BOC staff matched young adults placed in ESH between September 2016 through March 2017 to incidents reported in DOC's 24 Hour Reports through March 2017.

NEW YORK CITY BOARD OF CORRECTION

In addition, there were eight logbook entries noted in the Department's 24 Hour Reports that did not meet the Department's definition of a "reportable incident" and appear to involve assaults on or harm to staff. For example, in one incident, a young adult in ESH refused to comply with a search and threatened staff with a weapon. While being searched, the young adult stuck his hands down his pants and the weapon punctured the officer in the hand. In a separate incident, a young adult kneed an officer in the head while the officer was removing leg irons.

In all, there were 28 splashings associated with young adults during this period. Nearly half occurred in January 2017 and 12 of them involved the same individual in multiple ESH housing areas. There were also nine occurrences of spitting, six of them occurred in January, five (5) of them involving the same young adult.

INJURIES

Data reported by CHS indicates that 37% of all placements in ESH (n=23) had one or more injuries reported during their ESH placement period. Incarcerated people in ESH sustained 56 injuries from September to March 2017 and only one injury was classified as "serious." Thirty-four percent of injuries were due to DOC use of force (n=19), 29% were a result of self-injury (n=16), and 14% were a result of an inmate-on-inmate fight (n=8).

ARRESTS

Twenty-eight percent (28%, n=15) of the 61 young adults placed in ESH between September 2016 and March 2017 were arrested during their time in ESH.⁹³ There were 24 arrests involving young adults; five young adults were arrested multiple times during their time in ESH.⁹⁴ Additionally, there was one incident involving an arrest of a visitor to a young adult in ESH.⁹⁵

CURRENT DISCIPLINARY OPTIONS IN ESH

Young adults in ESH who are found guilty of an infraction are not subject to punitive segregation, but there is no separate disciplinary sanction schedule for young adults. Through the DOC adjudication process, young adults who are found guilty of a grade I or grade II infraction will be subject to a $25 surcharge. In addition, monetary restitution may be applied for damage to DOC property or when injured staff receive medical treatment (hospital visit). Good time may also be taken for sentenced young adults.

⁹³ Arrests made between individuals' ESH entry and exit dates. Determined by matching ESH young adults (placed between September 2016 to March 2017) to incidents in the DOC's 24 Hour Reports through March 31, 2017.

⁹⁴ Determined by matching ESH young adults (placed between September 2016 to March 2017) to incidents in the DOC's 24 Hour Reports through March 31, 2017.

New York City Board of Correction Splashing Report

Splashings are defined in Department of Correction (DOC) policy as “any incident wherein a person in custody intentionally causes an employee to come in contact with any fluid or fluid like substance.”¹ Fluid or fluid like substances range from water and milk to bodily fluids such as urine, feces, spit, and blood. Per DOC policy, people in custody who commit a splashing are charged with an assault on staff infraction and evidence is collected.² While the Department tracks and publicly reports data on assaults on staff in general, splashings as a distinct type of assault on staff are not currently tracked in a manner that easily facilitates routine reporting or review.

Correction officers and officials in jail systems comparable to New York City’s, such as the Los Angeles County and Cook County Jail systems, also track and have reported that splashings are negatively affecting staff and pose a challenge to jail management and operations. People affected by and responsible for responding to splashings in NYC and other jurisdictions have cited a range of factors they believe to be associated with and contributing to splashings (also referred to as “gassings” in other jurisdictions).³

Both nationally and locally, however, there is a dearth of research on splashings and little is known empirically about the prevalence, the conditions and contributing factors associated with this behavior, deterrence and prevention, or the physical and psychological impact on corrections officers and staff who have been splashed. As a start toward establishing a better understanding of splashings and their prevalence in New York City jails, Board of Correction (BOC) staff reviewed all occurrences of splashings reported in 2017. While preliminary, this report represents the most comprehensive public empirical analysis on splashings in the country.

³ Suspected factors associated with splashing include: perpetrators’ mental health conditions, lack of programming, the isolation and sensory deprivation of restrictive housing environments, and perpetrators’ intentional harassment of officers and gang involvement. Systemic policy changes related to reductions in staff uses of force and limits on the use of punitive segregation have also been identified by corrections officers as potential contributing factors. Key Findings

- In 2017, there was a total of 1,335 splashing incidents committed by 744 unique individuals. Two percent (2%, n=26) of splashings involved multiple perpetrators.
- Nine individuals were responsible for 13% (n=172) of all splashings, and a quarter (26%, n=197) of the 744 individuals who committed splashings committed more than one.
- Eighty-four percent (84%, n=1121) of all splashing incidents involved at least one perpetrator with mental health needs (Brad H/M designation).⁴
- Twenty percent (20%, n=263) of all splashing incidents occurred in the Otis Bantum Correctional Center (OBCC).
- Of the 1,335 splashing incidents in 2017, 16% (n=211) occurred in intake pens, 13% (n=177) in ESH housing areas, 12% (n=166) in general population housing areas, and 9% (n=122) in punitive segregation and restrictive housing units.
- Fifty-five percent (55%, n=750) of splashing incidents were recorded as involving unknown liquid substances, 41% (n=561) involved bodily fluids, 2% (n=24) involved food, and 1% (n=19) involved water.
- Ninety-six percent (96%, n=1,286) of all individuals splashed were correctional officers.
- Officers elected to turn in their uniforms for testing in 26% (n=347) of splashing incidents involving officers.
- Twenty-four percent (24%, n=327) of all splashing incidents were associated with a use of force, 5% (n=59) were recorded in connection with an unusual incident as defined by the Department, and all others occurred independent of other incidents and were recorded in logbook entries.

⁴ The Brad H/M indicator is assigned to individuals who have been incarcerated in city jails for at least 24 hours and who, during their confinement, had at least three mental health appointments.

Splashing Reporting Data and Methodology

The findings in this report are based on an analysis of incidents found in DOC's 24-Hour Central Operations Desk (COD) Reports from January through December 2017. The data reviewed from these reports includes information reported immediately after an incident occurs. Because a distinct reporting category for splashing incidents does not exist in DOC tracking systems, in order to derive the number of splashings reported, Board staff pulled incidents from the 24-Hour COD Reports using a keyword text search.⁵ For all incidents with at least one of the keywords, Board staff reviewed the reported information to confirm the report was in fact describing a splashing and, if so, coded the time of incident, type of splashing, substance involved, location, and individuals affected. This approach allowed the Board to determine the prevalence of splashing incidents reported in DOC facilities and additional information about these incidents. Given this methodology, it is possible the numbers presented in this report do not include all splashing incidents actually reported in 2017.

Total Splashings

In 2017, a total of 1,335 splashing incidents were reported. Forty-eight percent (48%, n=641) of splashing incidents occurred during the 3:00 P.M. to 11:00 P.M. tour, 43% (n=572) during the 7:00 A.M. to 3:00 P.M. tour, and 9% (n=122) during the 11:00 P.M. to 7:00 A.M. tour. The number of splashings by month ranged from a minimum of 85 in April and September to maximum of 148 splashings in December 2017.

Location

In 2017, the Otis Bantum Correctional Center (OBCC) was the facility with the most splashing incidents. Twenty percent (20%, n=263) of all splashings occurred in OBCC.

Sixteen percent 16% (n=211) of all splashings in DOC occurred in intake pens, 13% (n=177) in ESH housing areas, 12% (n=166) in general population housing areas, and 9% (n=122) in punitive or restrictive housing areas. Ninety-one percent (91%, n=161) of the 177 splashing incidents that took place in ESH occurred in ESH level 1 housing areas where restraint desks are used during lockout hours.⁶

Individuals Involved

Splashing incidents were committed by 744 unique people in DOC custody. Two percent (2%, n=26) of splashing incidents involved more than one individual.

The average age of individuals involved in splashings was 26, but ranged from 16 to 68. The median age was 25. Most splashings (70%, n=952) were committed by adults. Twenty-seven percent (27%, n=361) of splashings were committed by young adults, and 3% (n=47) were committed by adolescents.⁷ Eighty-four percent (84%, n=1121) of all splashing incidents involved at least one perpetrator with mental health needs (Brad H/M designation).⁸

The number of splashings per individual ranged from 1 to 40 splashings. Nine individuals were responsible for 13% (n=172) of all splashing incidents. More than a quarter (26%, n=197) of the 744 individuals who committed splashings in 2017 committed more than one splashing – 74% (n=547) splashed only once, 21% (n=159) splashed two to five times, 4% (n=29) splashed six to ten times, and 1% (n=9) splashed 11 or more times.

⁸ The Brad H/M indicator is assigned to individuals who have been incarcerated in city jails for at least 24 hours and who, during their confinement, had at least three mental health appointments.

Staff Affected & Substances Involved

Ninety-six percent (96%, n=1286) of all individuals splashed were correctional officers. Of the 49 splashing incidents not involving correctional officers, 42 involved Correctional Health staff,⁹ 5 involved DOC civilians (e.g., Dietary aide, electrician, support services), and 2 involved other individuals (i.e., Judge and Legal Aid lawyer). Officers elected to turn in their uniforms for testing in 26% (n=347) of splashing incidents involving officers.

Fifty-five percent (55%, n=750) of splashing incidents were recorded as involving unknown liquid substances, 41% (n=561) involved bodily fluids, 2% (n=24) involved food, and 1% (n=19) involved water.¹⁰ Forty-one percent (41%, n=551) involved the act of spitting one or more substances.¹¹

Unknown Liquid Substance	750	55%

Splashing Policies and Procedures

In February 2017, the Department of Correction issued a new operations order describing procedures for responding to splashing incidents and updated this policy in November of 2017.¹² The procedures outlined in the policy address investigation of the incident, serology evidence collection and preservation, reporting and tracking of the incident, employee uniform replacement, and adjudication and charges for individuals who committed the splashings.

Reported Incident Types

Per Department policy, splashings must be recorded as an "Assault on Staff Logbook Entry" and reported to the Central Operations Desk (COD).¹³ If the splashing incident occurs in conjunction with a reported use of force incident, there is no requirement for a logbook entry to be documented by COD, however, the splashing must be included in the use of force description. The Department's Operations Order is silent on how to report splashings that occur in connection with other "unusual incidents," however Board staff found 59 splashings connected with such incidents.

¹⁰ Splashings may involve multiple substances therefore the total does not match the total number of splashing incidents.

¹¹ Some splashing incidents involved spitting and other substances.

Twenty-four percent (24%, n=327) of all splashing incidents were associated with a use of force (including two allegations of a use of force), 5% (n=59) were recorded in connection with an unusual incident as defined by the Department,¹⁴ and all other splashings (71%, n=949) occurred independent of other incidents and were recorded as logbook entries. The unusual incident categories related to splashings were criminal acts on DOC property, conduct unbecoming, and an arrest of a visitor.¹⁵

*Use of force includes two allegations of use of force.

Unusual incidents include "Criminal Acts on DOC Property," "Conduct Unbecoming," and "Arrest of Visitor."

Next Steps

Moving forward, the Department should update its approach to tracking splashings so that the number of splashings can be more easily, accurately, and routinely reported and reviewed to address needed policy and practice improvements. DOC and CHS should work together to develop and implement behavior management plans and potential treatment options for individuals who are routinely involved in splashings.

¹⁴ The Department's policy on reporting requirements for unusual incidents defines "unusual incident" as "an event or occurrence that may affect or actually does affect the safety, security and well-being of the Department, its personnel, visitors and volunteers, as well as the inmates over whom it has custody and control." NEW YORK CITY DEP'T OF CORRECTION, DIRECTIVE No. 5000R-A, REPORTING UNUSUAL INCIDENTS, sec. IV(C), at 4 (eff. 11/19/04).
